

The Office for Research and Innovation is pleased to host:

The Research and Innovation Town Hall Series

This series gathers the research community to learn more about resources on Stony Brook campuses that support and drive research and innovation.

Join us for the next virtual research town hall of the 2024–2025 academic year.

Topic: Educational and Outreach Partners

Members of the research community are invited to attend for updates from the Office for Research and Innovation, and for brief presentations from Stony Brook units on their collaborative work expanding the university's impact in education and industry partnerships.

Tuesday, April 29, 2025
10 to 11:30 am

All members of the SBU research community are welcome to attend.
